

ABOVE: Volunteers from the local chapter of the American Red Cross, including a member in this column, are helping to collect donations for the Red Cross. The Red Cross is a nonprofit organization that provides relief to people in need. It is one of the largest and most respected humanitarian organizations in the world. The Red Cross has been helping people in need for over 100 years. It has helped people in need during times of war, disaster, and poverty. The Red Cross has helped people in need in many ways. It has provided food, shelter, and medical care. It has also provided financial assistance and emotional support. The Red Cross is a truly remarkable organization. It is a testament to the power of human compassion and the ability of people to help one another. The Red Cross is a source of hope and inspiration for people everywhere. It is a reminder that we are all part of the same human family and that we have the power to make a difference in the world.

